Largest Crowd of Week at Cooking School Thursday

Bright Weather Sends Record Number of Women to Hear Mrs. Stafford

IS CLOSING FRIDAY

Last Chance to Visit Star's Fourth Annual Free Cooking School

The best crowd of the week turned out Thursday for the third day's session of The Star's free Cooking School at the Saenger theater.

Mrs. Kate Stafford, who is directing this fourth annual event for the housewives of Southwest Arkansas, delivered a fascinating talk on the preparation of an entire meal, and then proceeded to cook the meal in her model kitchen on the Saenger stage.

She followed this with a demonstration of meat-cutting, and a discussion of the relative value of the various cuts as they appear in the family menu.

Mrs. Stafford will close her four-day school at the Saenger Friday afternoon, opening the final lecture at 2 o'clock and closing at 4 sharp.

Her crowd Thursday filled most of the ground floor of the big Saenger theater, and as in years past, her closing session Friday will probably fill the big building almost to capacity.

The expert cook drew an interested audience of housewives in the gallery Thursday, who followed her fully as closely as the audience downstairs.

Capitol Stormed At Jackson, Miss.

Sales Tax Protestants March to Governor's Office Seeking Conner

JACKSON, Miss.—(AP)—An all-day demonstration here Wednesday against the administration's proposed three per cent retail sales tax was climaxed in the afternoon with a march on the state capitol building where protesters sought to force an entrance into Gov. Sennett Conner's office.

Friends of the governor who filled the antechamber of the executive chambers informed them that the governor was at a downtown hotel.

Near panic reigned at the governor's door when Representative Sam Lumpkin of Tupelo, who was carrying an unfinished walking stick in his hand, spoke sharply to the group pressing nearest the entrance with a warning not to attempt a forced entrance, and an unidentified man in the crowd drew a pistol.

The man was hustled away into the crowd after Miss Lena Brock, private secretary to the governor, who refused to move from the door during the demonstration, screamed "Don't do that!" The wife and mother of Governor Conner, who were in the outer office witnessed the scene.

The crowd of demonstrators, who swarmed over the statehouse on mass after attending a downtown mass meeting where resolutions condemning the sales tax were adopted, milled about the corridors outside the executive offices with cries of "We want Mike" (the governor's nickname), for an hour. They then dispersed after placing placards against the sales tax in the Senate chamber and on the statehouse grounds.

The House, which was in session at the time, continued a routine session in spite of the din in the main runways of the capitol.

Shortly before arrival of the protesters, the Senate Finance Committee held a meeting to take up the sales tax bill, already adopted by the House, but took no action.

"Double" for Lindbergh Baby Startles Tennessee Town

Excited throngs stampeded to Crossville, Tenn., during a quiet Sabbath afternoon when word spread that the curly-headed baby above had been located. The child, shown in the arms of Dr. V. L. Lewis of Crossville, at first was believed to be the kidnapped Lindbergh baby. But examination by Dr. Lewis showed that the descriptions, although distinctly similar, did not match. A filing station proprietor notified police when he observed the baby in the company of two visiting couples at a home across the street. They later gave their names as "Mr. and Mrs. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson of Pennsylvania." They were released after questioning and after Colonel Lindbergh, from a telephone of the child and marks of identity, had definitely decided it was not his.

Lindbergh Latest Tip Fails Thursday

Chisel Missing From Franklin Park Home Is Found by Owner

HOPEWELL, N. J.—(AP)—The latest theory in the Lindbergh kidnaping mystery fell apart Thursday. For several days police from the Lindbergh home have been investigating the story of Mr. and Mrs. C. Leonardo Lightfoot of Franklin Park, N. J., who told how their foreign servants left the day after the Lindbergh kidnaping and that coincident with their departure, a chisel such as that used by the kidnapers and found beneath the nursery window from which the child was stolen, missing.

This tip blew up with the finding of the chisel Thursday morning.

Lewis Proposes Bureau Mergers

Would Unite Agriculture Departments, Abolish I. C. C. Trade Commission

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The economy drive in Congress took new turns with Democrats and Republicans submitting counter proposals in the Senate. Accepting Republican challenges to name the bureaus he would abolish, Senator Lewis, Democrat, Illinois, proposed in the Senate that the Interior and Agriculture departments be consolidated, and that the Federal Trade Commission and Interstate Commerce Commission and Shipping Board be abolished.

Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, pressed a proposal for a 10 per cent cut in the $37,000,000 Interior Department appropriation bill.

Senator Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, is ready to counter with an amendment to the McKellar proposition that the president be given full authority to reorganize the government, merging and abolishing departments and bureaus.

A 20 per cent cut in members of congress salaries and employees, making $10,000 or over, is expected to be adopted.

Suggestions of a flat 10 per cent cut are also being considered.

Loan Applications Being Received by Loan Committees

Blanks Come in From Memphis in Small Quantities, Starting Work

ECONOMICAL POLICY

Loans Held to Minimum This Year, and Must Be Fully Repaid

Federal crop loan blanks have begun arriving in Hempstead county, and while the supply was temporarily exhausted Thursday, a total of 150 applications have already been received by the seven community committees.

W. Homer Pigg, paid secretary of the County Loan Committee, who maintains offices on East Second street opposite the postoffice, said that the application blanks were coming in from the Memphis federal office in small shipments, but the work of receiving loan requests from local farmers is already under way.

H. M. Stephens of Blevins, chairman of the County Loan Committee, who with Roy Anderson and Ralph Routon, of Hope, has final decision on all applications in this county, said that the county committee is meeting in Hope Chamber of Commerce offices as often as sufficient completed applications are ready for inspection.

Produce On Loans

The government loan procedure is the same this year as last. Applications are filled in by the farmers and passed on to their community committee, if approved, the loan is sent up to Mr. Pigg and the County Loan Committee. Following its approval by this group, the application is forwarded to the Memphis Loan Bureau, where, the loan is actually granted and a check mailed back through the same channels to the farmer.

Mr. Pigg has been retained by County Judge L. F. Higginson in lieu of a county agent to handle detail work for the County Loan Committee, and may be interviewed at his office on East Second street.

The County Loan Committee previously had been extended the services of the Chamber of Commerce office in the city hall, and Mr. Stephens announced that this offer was accepted, the committee using the chamber offices for conference purposes, similar to the meeting of the discount committee of a bank.

The county committee also announced appointment of a seventh community committee, that for DeAnn and Beard's Chapel. The complete community committee organization follows:

DeAnn and Beard's Chapel: Monroe Samuels and John Timberlake, DeAnn; and Otis Landers, Beard's Chapel.

Hope: Harry Briant, Hatley White, Pat Duffie.

Fullton and Columbus: Brooks Shults, Fullton; I. E. Odum, Fullton; R. E. Jackson, Columbus.

Washington and Ozan: B. A. Barrow, Ozan; Wilbur Jones, Ozan; J. W. Butler, Washington.

Sharper Loan Policy Regarding this year's policy on government loans, T. Roy Reid of Little Rock, director of State Extension Service, has said that he knows of no way for the fruit growers who were frozen out this month to obtain money with which to cultivate and spray their trees.

"However," he said, "growers who believe they will produce a crop this year may make application in the regular manner and the county board will investigate and, if in their opinion the loan will be protected, a maximum of $25 per acre will be advanced for fertilizer and spraying and dusting material.

"There was more liberality in the loaning last year than will likely be possible this year. The drought-stricken farmers had the sympathy of the people of the nation, and more liberal loans were made because of this. The loaning this year will be characterized by strict business needs without any liberalizing above the amount which it is felt that the farmer can pay back in full to the government."

"The loaning office will this year maintain a small field force to check on loans to investigate loans requested by those who obtained loans last year and have not repaid these in full either with money or with cotton set up as collateral for the loan.

Courts May Pass On Hospital Site

Owners of Land Near Fayetteville Plan to Resist Condemnation

FAYETTEVILLE.—An appeal to the Supreme Court, if necessary, will be taken by Mrs. Nell Wilson Jones and her brother, Hugh Wilson, they said here Wednesday, in a fight against condemnation proceedings by the city on land selected as the site for the government veterans' hospital here. A bill authorizing municipalities to condemn land for hospital sites, which opinion here says is aimed particularly at Fayetteville's present situation, is pending in the legislature. An opinion on approximately 90 acres, most of which is owned by Wilson and Mrs. Jones, has been taken by the local Hospital Committee. Introduction of the bill in the legislature is an effort, it is believed here, to get the land at a price lower than the total of $55,500 agreed on by options on the tracts. Under this bill, a court would determine the land's price.

Local bankers said here Wednesday that the bill and a companion measure were introduced to make legal beyond all question the bonds to be issued for financing the purchase of the site.

An unusual feature of the Fayetteville hospital site case, it was revealed is the fact that Hugh Wilson and Mrs. Nell Wilson Jones, who own most of the land it is desired to condemn as a hospital site, are the brother and sister of State Senator Robert L. Wilson of Fayetteville, who is actively supporting the condemnation bill in the legislature and who voted for it in the Senate Wednesday.

"My father is actively supporting this bill and only the fact that his relatives are involved prevented him from introducing it in the Senate," it was said by his son, Allen Wilson, former mayor of Fayetteville. "All of us who are actively favoring the passage of this bill, however, are anxious to make it plain that we have no desire to do an injustice to anyone. We want the city of Fayetteville to pay every cent that this land is worth at a fair market price. All that we are asking is that a fair and impartial jury shall be allowed to decide the price of this land."

Charge Bankers Interested Only In Fiscal Agent Fees

Noted Adventurer Is Lodged in Texas Jail

TYLER, Tex.—(AP)—Tracy Richardson, 41, soldier of fortune whose adventures have led him through Europe, Asia, Mexico and Central America, chafed at jail bars Wednesday, as he berated charges of mail fraud which prevented him from going to China as a war correspondent.

He was arrested at Nacogdoches and charged with using the mails to defraud, in connection with promotion of the Pelican Gold Mining company, of Fort Worth.

When arrested, Richardson had been in the East Texas oil fields two months collecting data, he said, for stories. He declared there was no truth in the assertion of federal investigators that one of the Pelican company's purported mines in Mexico was nonexistent. He said postal inspectors went to Zitacuaro, Mexico, to investigate the mine but left without doing so. The mine there is a rich one and would have made money if the company had been properly managed. Richardson claims.

Friends were attempting Wednesday to furnish $5000 bond for him.

Brothers Held On Robbery Charges

Accused by Operator of Filling Station of Holding Him Up

LITTLE ROCK.—George McKinley, aged 31, and his brother, Bernard McKinley, 25, of Bigelow, Ferry county, were arrested there Wednesday by Deputy Sheriffs Acklin and Spores on warrants charging them with highway robbery. Both deny the charges.

Early Sunday morning Ben Newton, who operates a filling station several miles west of Little Rock on the Joe T. Robinson highway, was held up and robbed by two white men who wore masks. He lost between $35 and $40. Newton obtained warrants for the brothers. He told officers he was acquainted with them and they entered to buy a pack of cigarettes. He said he turned to get the cigarettes and when he turned back, he said, he was confronted by the brothers, who had adjusted masks.

The officers found the younger brother in Bigelow Wednesday morning, and later found George McKinley plowing on a farm a mile from town. They said Newton identified both.

Roosevelt Victor In North Dakota

Democratic Vote Thus Far More Than Three Times Previous Record

FARGO, N. D.—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt won the North Dakota Democratic presidential preference contest in Tuesday's primary on the face of returns tabulated by the Associated Press Election Bureau Wednesday night from most of the state's 2,235 precincts.

In 1,324 precincts Roosevelt maintained a nearly two-to-one lead, receiving 33,125 votes, while his opponent, Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma, polled 19,115. With 48 of the state's 53 counties reporting partial returns, Roosevelt held a lead in 48, while the others gave Murray the margin.

The amazing number of Democratic ballots cast in this normally Republican state set an all-time record for that party's vote in a presidential primary. The highest previous vote was around 13,000. Already 52,000 Democratic ballots have been tabulated, and indications were that the total from the state would exceed 80,000.

Former Senator J. I. France of Maryland won the Republican presidential preference race, defeating "General" Jacob S. Coxey, mayor of Massillon, O.

Senate Bill to Reduce the Price of State Tags Is Reported

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Following heated debate in which it was charged that St. Louis bankers, heretofore in action with bond refunding legislation, were more interested in the fiscal agent fees than in the refunding of bonds, a resolution for the appointment of a joint committee to confer with bond representatives and withdraw from the house by its own or Representative Smith of Little Rock.

The concurrent resolution have authorized a committee of House members and three Senators to meet the bond representatives and report back on the refunding bill.

He was charged with the duty of order as not being within the governor's call.

A Senate bill reducing the automobile license was favorably reported to the Senate by a committee on revenue and taxation.

Murder Admission Charged to Indian

Brother-in-Law of Apache Says Defendant Told of Killing Girl

GLOBE, Ariz.—(AP)—Robert Gatewood, Apache brother-in-law of Mop ("Goiney") Coyne, testified Wednesday in the Indian murder trial that Seymour told him late on the night of July 18, "I killed a white woman."

Seymour is on trial for the slaying of Henrietta Schmeidler, Columbia University student of anthropology. Seymour, Gatewood declared in sputtering Apache through an interpreter, said he had been intimating to the white woman and she had threatened to make trouble so he killed her.

Gatewood said Seymour washed blood from his hands and told him "I say anything about this I will do same to you."

The testimony of Gatewood followed evidence offered by the government in an effort to prove that the body found near Fort Apache in July was that of Miss Schmeidler.

John F. Dougherty, Seymour's attorney, had contended "there is nothing here yet to show the dead woman." William Maupin, special officer, testified he believed a suitcase he found in a canyon on the east fork of the White river belonged to Miss Schmeidler and that the body he saw in the ravine was the body of the girl he met as Miss Schmeidler.

The Columbia University co-ed was killed while visiting the Apache reservation to obtain material for a thesis for a master's degree in anthropology. She was found beaten to death not far from the lonely cabin she occupied.

Cheaper Utility Rates

EVER since the City of Hope made a 16 2-3 per cent reduction in the rates of its municipally-owned electric plant, in October, 1930, there has been a deep-seated feeling that similar action ought to be required of the private utility companies supplying natural gas, telephone service and ice.

There was nothing haphazard, therefore, in the resolutions of the city council Tuesday night instructing the city attorney to proceed against the Arkansas Natural Gas corporation, the Southwestern Bell Telephone company and the Southern Ice & Utilities Co.—and the council's decision will be widely approved.

Arkansas is one of the few commonwealths in which public utility regulations actually begins with the city governments. Many states gather all regulatory powers to themselves, leaving the cities no voice. But in Arkansas the power to grant a franchise for water, electricity and gas, rests with the cities. Telephone and telegraph lines and ice companies are regulated by the State Railroad Commission.

On complaint of the city, the rates of all public service corporations are subject to review by the Railroad Commission at an open hearing.

The Arkansas Natural Gas corporation happens to be operating in Hope without any franchise at the present time.
Although this bit of history occurred before this writer came to Hope, we are informed that there was a dispute over the terms of the original franchise proposal, and the gas company went ahead without the legal status that the law requires of it.

This much the council certainly can clear up—forcing the Arkansas Natural into a regularly-executed franchise, which will give an excellent opportunity to review the gas company's schedule of rates.

Both the telephone and gas concerns being inter-connected systems with many miles of line reaching several states, they will contend their charges are based on a vast property only remotely touched by local conditions. And yet, this "local condition" is nation-wide today. Their relation to Hope is just that relation which the whole property has to the entire nation in this era of falling prices; and it will be up to the city to bring this fact home to the corporations.

The ice company offers an easier problem.

A good friend of ours used to be local ice manager, and he need to be vastly irritated when in the course of our editorial writings we pointed out that an ice company is no more a public utility than a newspaper. Electric companies, telephone and gas concerns require domestic consumer lines which tear up the pavement, enter buildings, and otherwise directly cross the public's convenience so that they become legitimate monopolies and have to be regulated. But an ice company only has delivery wagons and is no more entitled to monopoly protection than a newspaper with its carrier-boy delivery routes.

Our readers will recall that two years ago we attacked a new law which had placed control over ice prices with the Railroad Commission, and allowed the Commission to regulate the number of ice companies in any one city. It was the monopoly feature we objected to, and the Arkansas Supreme Court invalidated this section, allowing rate-regulation to stand.

There is some justice in asking regulation of ice prices, while refusing to give any one ice company a monopoly. The ice business does not appear able to withstand competition, and the history all over Arkansas is that without regulation innumerable ice companies sprang up, prices jumped from one extreme to the other, some of the companies went broke, and sooner or later all of them were gathered up into a combine which put the price of ice at an exorbitant figure.

In 1922, Ross Morgan, utility speculator, gathered up four ice companies in El Dorado, ended a rate war, and posted a price of one dollar a hundred pounds. The El Dorado News had to head up a consumers' league and ship ice in from another city in order to break Morgan's strangle-hold on the people.

Out of experiences like that came the theory of regulated ice prices.

As a matter of fact, Hope ought to be able to obtain cheaper ice rates. The Railroad Commission was given regulatory power on the promise of the companies that it would make for cheaper ice.

Considerable publicity came out a year and a half ago when the Southern Ice & Utilities Co. abolished its non-coupon price of 70 cents a hundred, reducing it to the coupon price of 60—but the joker was that virtually all the ice was being sold on coupons anyway.

The ice companies have had about three years of regulated prices now, and it's time we had that promised reduction. It's to their interests as much as ours—for on the result depends a continuation of the experiment of state-regulated prices.

MORTON'S SALT

10¢ THE PACKAGE

A heavy rainstorm visits New York City and brings smiles to the faces of the taxi drivers, who prosper in wet weather.

Does your husband grumble on rainy days because the salt won't pour? Then change to Morton's Iodized Salt and watch his face break into smiles! Made with cube-shaped crystals, which tumble off one another instead of sticking together like the flake crystals of inferior salts, it pours every bit as freely in damp weather as in dry. Also, it positively protects children against simple goiter, a frequent cause of loss of appetite, lack of vigor and backwardness at school.

Has examined under a magnifying glass, each tiny crystal of Morton's Salt is found to be a perfect cube.

End Piles Quick

No Salves—No Cutting
Your itching, bleeding, protruding piles will go when you actually remove the cause—bad blood circulation in the weak, flabby parts—and not one minute before. Salves or cutting can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, prescription of Dr.
J. S. Leonard, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record right in this city, that Ward & Son say one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your pile agony or money back.—Adv.

IN HONOR OF ERIN'S SAINT

Have you ever heard the story of how Ireland got its name? Well, tell you so you'll understand from whence old Ireland came; Shure, a little bit of Heaven fell from out the sky one day, And landed on the ocean in a spot so far away; And when the angels found it, shure it looked so sweet and fair, They said, "suppose we leave it, for it looks so peaceful there;" So they sprinkled it with star dust just to make the shamrocks grow, 'Tis the only place you'll find them, no matter where you go; Then they dotted it with silver, to make its lakes so grand, And when they had finished, shure they called it Ireland.—J. K. B.

Banker Criticizes Federal Tax Bill

Sales Levies Discriminate Against Southern Manufacturers, Kahn Says

LITTLE ROCK—The manufacturers' sales tax provision of the new revenue bill under consideration in Washington by the House was criticized Tuesday by Alfred G. Kahn, president of the Union Trust Company, who declared that the proposed sales tax places the Southern manufacturer of food products at a disadvantage in competing with Northern manufacturers.

"The proposed sales tax exempts such products as flour, meal products, cheese, canned milk, butter and oleo," Mr. Kahn said. "All these products are strictly Northern food products. The proposed tax, however, does not exempt cottonseed oil, shortening and cooking oils, making them subject to taxation."

On Shanghai Express

Seven well known character actors and actresses supplement the work of Merlene Dietrich and Clive Brooks in Josef von Sternberg's latest production, "Shanghai Express," which is the Saenger theatre's feature picture for two days next week, beginning Sunday.

These artists are Anna May Wong, Warner Oland, Lawrence Grant, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Emil Chautard, Eugene Pallette, and Louise Closser Hale.

Miss Dietrich's characterization in "Shanghai Express" is that of Shanghai Lily, an adventuresome, notorious throughout the Orient. Brook plays the part of a British Officer, one of her legion of admirers.

Miss Wong, featured character actress in "Daughter of the Dragon," has the role of a Chinese courtesan; Oland appears as a Chinese war lord; Grant portrays a European clergyman; Seyffertitz has the part of a German adventurer; Chautard, a former director of silent pictures, is an officer cashiered from the French army; Pallette is a gambler and bookmaker; and Miss Hale, a veteran actress, represents a boarding house keeper in Shanghai.

Jules Furthman wrote the screen play of "Shanghai Express," which is an adaptation of an original story by Harry Hervoy, novelist, playwright and globe-trotter. It was filmed on an ambitious scale at Paramount's Hollywood studios and at several locations in southern California.

Four Held After $100,000 Robbery

Most of Loot From Iowa Bank Recovered in Brush Pile

CLINTON, Iowa.—(AP)—Police blocked escape of four masked bandits with $100,000 they had taken from the City National bank here Tuesday.

Shortly after 8:30 a. m. the money, fled with the money, leaving 18 employees and customers bound in the bank. Within three hours most of the loot was found in a brush pile on a farm near Camanche and two hours later the four had been captured. Officers announced they had confessed.

The men gave their names as Cliff Edwards of Louisville, Ky., Earl Jeffries, alias Earl Shearlett, Edward Morris, alias T. D. Morse and Lester Stanley, alias Leo Stanley. The last three also are believed to be from Louisville.

The four men had been seen together about Clinton for several days, usually in a green coupe bearing Kentucky license plates. A similar car was used in the robbery.

Wearing black hoods, the bandits were waiting at a barred rear door when Clyde Willets, the bank janitor, opened the building. As each employee and customer entered the bank, he was bound and taken into a room not visible from the street. When the time lock released the vault doors at 8:30 a. m., the bandits stuffed all available currency into a pillow case and left.

They discarded their hoods outside. A hat lost in the process bore the address of the home of Edwards' aunt, Miss Gertrude Hall, and a cap bore the trademark of a Louisville clothier, John and Arvid Flood, brothers operating a farm near Camanche, noticed a bundle thrown from an automobile speeding past their farm. They found it to be the greater part of the stolen money and some clothing.

Robbed of $2,250 In Hoarded Gold

Dewey Pilgreen of Malvern Claims to Have Found Money

MALVERN.—Dewey Pilgreen, aged 35, is in the Hot Spring County General hospital suffering from injuries received about 11 Wednesday night when he was attacked and robbed.

Mr. Pilgreen said he was returning to Malvern with $2,250 in gold and was wearing the Missouri Pacific depot when he saw a freight train coming into Malvern. Believing it would be safer to be on the side of the track nearest the depot, he ran across the tracks and had reached the mail car for northbound trains, when the train reached him. He either fell against the train or was struck. In the fall his right hand was caught in the train. Two fingers were so badly mangled that amputation was necessary.

Mr. Pilgreen, after regaining consciousness about 2 in the morning, crawled to the home of Sam Nelson, negro, on East First street and asked that an ambulance be called. Nelson's wife picked up the money sack, which was from the First National bank, Malvern, and was supposed to have contained the gold, and turned it over to Malvern officers.

Pilgreen said he had used a mineral rod several days ago and located the money, and returned there Wednesday night. Digging a five-foot hole, he found the gold and counted it. The gold was in $5, $10 and $20 pieces. He put them in a bag he had secured from the First National bank several days ago. Pilgreen told Marshal Davis he saw no one in the yards of the depot as he crossed the tracks, but the money had disappeared when he regained consciousness.

World Court Views of Stimson Are Sought

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Ensnarled in a sharp dispute over interpretation of the revised protocol for American adherence to the world court, the senate foreign relations committee Wednesday called Secretary Stimson to give his views. The secretary of state will be heard at next week's meeting.

Meanwhile, new complications confront the path of the court protocol. Senators Pittman of Nevada and Lewis of Illinois, both democrats, offered resolutions Wednesday. The committee controversy is over whether the revised protocol protects the senate's reservations adopted in 1926, barring the court from rendering advisory opinions affecting the United States without the consent of this government.

Oh, Hum!

LOS ANGELES.—"What's a robber or two in life?" asks J. C. Brubaker. He was repairing a flat tire at night recently when a bandit jumped alongside him, held a gun against his ribs and demanded money. Brubaker went on fixing his tire, humming a song. After commanding his calm victim to hold up his hands three or four times, the robber put away his gun and remarked, "There's no use in both of us wasting our time," and walked away.
